News Release:

Minister of Education and Attorney General Meet with Association of Denominational Boards of Education

Senator Hazel Manning, Minister of Education and Senator John Jeremie, S.C., Hon. Attorney General, and their respective teams, met with representatives of the Association of Denominational Boards of Education at the offices of the Minister of Education, Alexandra Street, St. Clair today.

Following a very cordial meeting, many outstanding issues with regard to the contract governing the relationship between the State and the Denominational Bodies have been settled. The parties will meet in two weeks time with a view to bringing closure to the negotiations.

The parties have been meeting for a little over a year to negotiate a contract that seeks to govern the relationship between State and Church with respect to Government-Assisted schools.
